Akira

it has been a few days
that my focus on consciousness is studying the energy field!

Purification, living life of ideas, reaching the source!

Going through my archive
I found a painting
I made circa 1921.

it is the perfection I have been chasing!

Soft, kind & bright.

It synthesizes, unites, prays, lives, compares in the visual realm, at the edges of realism and abstraction, it's energy is radiant and loving.

It is like you father!
And the spirit of the ancients of old!

It has been a long quest,
my spiritual father

how I became one of 'us'!

pure carableness!
