

First thoughts

A little harder to fall asleep last night due to Koto miscan.

Have to get to the depth of it.

It is ironic that Claude was asking me if talking was "jane" (I was referring to the stigma in Japan) -

It is an interesting question tho.

"Is it contaminated by fear ego, performance, or distraction. Aligned with the source?"

Bam, Koto miscan Re = price

Kotoy indeed.

It is a business, but let's approach this with the purest of intentions.

I still have to inquire into the nature of money in Buddhism.

I would love to live based on donations, the generosity of people and what they can "afford".
