

SAKURA SHINSEI PAINTING PROCESS BLOSSOMS

18.07.25

"Plum painting", 1st of spring

Spring energy,
You are nourishing our hearts
with a promising light.

The blossoms are blooming,
First signs of this new energy flowing through our veins.

At each bloom,
each petal,
I vow to be and create
what is best for all sentient beings.

As I paint with feeling and perception, ripples within as if I drew on water.

A cosmic experience...
As I feel realized...
Enlightened... one within,
Fractal...
Holographic mirror of all feelings.

One is all,
all is one.

All is..

with humility,
I thank you life...

Servant of the light.
Self realization for all

painting process

- wet paper? set your intention:

- each day is a blossom (let it grow naturally)
- one day for each "intention"

- take your time to take, breathe, your intention; let it flow through your body / sensations

mantra style "repetition"...

- add as many days as you desire,
according to the design, composition in vision if you have one.

- if adding more detail:

1.0. Stems (check anatomy)

1 - get deeper into intention

1 -> _____
+ detail!

-> WORKSHOP

create one day (flower) for each good thing you are grateful for.
