

Almost 17 years in Japan - drink with Yoko before the sake
 bar. (On duty, I will keep my eye!)

Talks, I want to be my afternoon,
 are habit for the first two months in Japan when I had the time and nothing else to do.

Trying to grasp the culture through the books from Taniguchi.

Not much 'visual arts' in this neighbourhood I thought - Everything seemed so new,
 the visual world being my
 'main education', it is (it seems)
 the same as the 'Artist' passport.
 You can go anywhere and still find an anchor.

It is hard to remember all the changes that occurred, especially in the context of a gradual progress, / evolution / growing of consciousness.

The dialogue and the quest within,
 the alignment, organization, focus on harmony.

There would probably be main observation in a split decision.

I am looking forward to refine,
 and enjoy even more this reality,
 hoping that it all stays well with the love of my life

JAPAN

HARmony	·	PRACTICE	MIND IS
METHOD		IS	HARmony
		AWAKENING	AWAKE
		IS	OPEN THROUGH
		PHANNA	PRACTICE

IS CONSCIENCE GRADUALLY AWAKENING

≈

How DOES IT RELATE WITH THE PRACTICE

INTENTION / ENERGY / PERIT?

Sometimes, it really feels like intention, is the main method.

Especially as the mind (language words). What is the part that remains the same? where does the intention comes from?

When did the quest start?

Was it always there?

Is it ingrained in us?

What are the values that unfold
 this reality?

How does it make sense -

It is time to rest,
 simply enjoy,
 the mind.

Enjoying what is!

Energy. Peaceful energy.