Sharpening the mind-

a lot of Buddhist studies and research overall over the last few days. Building new foundations.

Technical, Academic, Philosophical.
Challenging, but I love it.

"Creating the space" for attention, cultivation of ideas.

Clarifying ideas.
Aligning in the morning.
Staying aligned during the day.

Deconstructing concepts to find the one.

Celebrating the moment.

I am fully aware of the privilege.
I hope this energy will not be spent in vain.

For the good of all.

Let's move.
